

Etherton Education Residential Summer Courses Review March 2022

We have been reviewing the situation with our residential courses this summer. The overall picture remains quite difficult. England has now removed all coronavirus restrictions and so travel into the UK is easier, in theory. However, the worldwide pandemic is not over and restrictions remain in other countries. In addition, Russia's invasion of Ukraine has changed the situation completely and will inevitably affect people's ability and wish to travel this summer.

At this point in time, Etherton Education still hopes to run residential summer courses. We are going to remain open for applications but without requesting any deposit payments. We will be conducting our next review after the 15 April 2022 (in four weeks). We hope that by then there will be better news about the political situation in Europe and about the pandemic.

For general information on travelling to England this summer, please visit the English UK English with Confidence website.

Meanwhile, we are preparing to offer another online academic summer course. This will be our third year of running online courses and will provide excellent preparation for students intending to join a British boarding school or who are interested in British education.
